

THE SCOTTISH ST. ANDREW SOCIETY OF GREATER ST. LOUIS
November Newsletter

Dear Friends,

The weather had a big say in our October meeting as it proved to be a rather wet evening. Nevertheless, we had a grand time with Sue Flowers, from the Missouri Division of Tourism, who provided an exciting look at the many opportunities in the state for fishing and boating and provided everyone with a package of maps and brochures. A lively film of the waterways of the state brought her presentation to a climax. We were surprised by two new guests in the person of Bill Butcher from Edinburgh and Tim Ely from Glasgow. These are the young men who were canoeing down the Mississippi to New Orleans for the cause of Cancer Research in Scotland. They reported that they also had met and talked to the Prince of Wales when he was here.

"Be ready....just be ready," was the message of her dream. She was ready, and she played a large part in saving her husband's life. This is the message of the first article in the October issue of Reader's Digest, and it refers to the use of cardio-pulmonary resuscitation. We have an opportunity to learn the technique which one day may save a life. Six minutes only is the time we have before damage to the brain begins...six minutes during which we can work and perhaps save the life of a loved one. We will be joining a long line of organizations who have seen this Red Cross presentation.

The preceding paragraph deals with the subject of the first part of our November 28th meeting and should prove of critical interest to most of us. The latter part of the evening will be devoted to a film of conditions in Wales, and the film is entitled "Snowdonia." Mark your calendars for 28 November, St. Andrew Society monthly meeting, 7:30 p.m. in the Eden Seminary Library.

We are attaching a copy of a paper which deals with a matter we will be voting on at our 28 November meeting. The paper contains changes which must be made to our Articles of Incorporation in order to qualify, under IRS regulations, for tax exempt status. If you have any questions regarding this paper or the proposed changes, be sure to bring them to the November meeting.

The Program Committee is already busily making plans for our annual Christmas Party scheduled for 19 December. In order to help them in their planning, would you please indicate to any of the committee members or to the board members at the next meeting how many children, and their ages, likely to be present with you at the Party. Your help is being asked in this matter so that the necessary gifts can be arranged.

Looking forward to seeing you all on the 28th.
