

SCOTTISH ST. ANDREW SOCIETY OF GREATER ST. LOUIS

FEBRUARY, 1987

Dear Member:

By all accounts the Burns Supper was enjoyed by everyone, and even the weather smiled upon us. I must emphasize, though, that it is not traditional for the haggis to be carried out by the person who has just addressed it! But we Scots can always improvise, even in the absence of a chef.

Please note that the "February Meeting" will actually take place on Monday, March 2nd, at 7.30 p.m. at the Salem Methodist Church, when we shall see a film on bagpiping with some beautiful Scottish scenery. On March 23rd we shall be regaled by Helen Gannon and her delightful group of Irish dancers and musicians. In the past this has always been an outstanding evening of Celtic fun, with the Irish lilt describing the proceedings throughout.

The Ceilidh is scheduled for April 27th and at this time we should be doing a "self-assessment" of your talents in the Society. Anything goes at the ceilidh, recitation, singing (mouth music), dancing, instrumentation, and any other form of entertainment that we can provide! The election of Officers will also take place at this meeting, prior to the Ceilidh proceedings.

Special Announcement: BATTLEFIELD BAND in concert at the Kirkwood Community Center, on Monday, April 13, 1977. Tickets will be available in mid March from Art Vasterling, Sandy Mount Productions, and Focal Point.

The word for last month is still commonly used in Scotland, meaning "broken down", usually from wear and tear. It can apply to things or persons. Word for this month:

INSNORL

Sincerely

Tom Forrester, President.
